

Experts Urge Action On Rising Food Costs

Ag Department Revising Its Forecast To 3%

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several congressional economic experts say the government should do something about the unexpected rise in the cost of food now predicted for this year if inflation is to be controlled.

But there was no agreement on what to do, with solutions ranging from possible wage-price controls to a revamping of federal farm subsidies.

The Agriculture Department said this week that earlier forecasts that food costs would rise this year 2 to 2.5 per cent were being revised upward. An official said the figure would more likely be about 3 per cent.

Up 4.3% Last Year
Food prices last year jumped 4.3 per cent. The price of food makes up 20 per cent of the overall cost of living, which climbed 4.7 per cent in 1968, the biggest jump since the Korean War year of 1951.

One congressman, Rep. William B. Widnall of New Jersey, indicated the unexpected rise in food costs are the result of a general inflationary psychology. If it continues, he said, "I am afraid we'll see the last thing I want to see—direct controls on wages and prices."

Widnall is the senior Republican House member of Congress' Joint Economic Committee.

Another member of the committee, Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., said the administration's goal for containing inflation this year allowed for too much increase to begin with, and the rise in food prices would push it still higher.

Unchecked
The chairman of the House Banking subcommittee on consumer affairs, Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., also said the escalating price on food might call for attention to farm programs.

"I really don't want to take off on an administration that has been in office only a short time," she said, "but inflation goes on unchecked and they haven't sent anything up."

But Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, defended both the administration and farmers, saying it is up to Congress to prove its sincerity in opposing inflation.

Miller, a member of the joint committee, said it is reasonable that prices received by farmers should increase as much as prices farmers have to pay.

If food prices increased 4.3 per cent last year and increase only 3 per cent this year, he continued, this would not be out of line with the program of gradually clamping down on inflation.

Lacking In Action
"If those in charge of Congress are anti-inflationary in deeds as well as words, we can get inflationary psychology under control," Miller said.

"This means continuing the surtax, repealing the investment credit, and keeping appropriations down to the levels in President Nixon's budget recommendations. We'll see how sincere Congress is during the next few months as the appropriations come through."

Widnall said his impression is that "labor and everybody else is asking for more than ever before, to hedge against inflation."

He added, however, he sees little of this tendency on the part of farmers and attributed the food price increases to higher processing and distribution charges.

Black Power Movement Shows Decentralization

WASHINGTON (AP) — Black student uprisings at campuses across the country point up a trend toward decentralization of the black power movement.

New faces have been thrust into positions of prominence in recent months as such black power advocates as Stokely Carmichael, H. Rap Brown and Floyd McKissick dropped from public view.

The old faces haven't just disappeared from television news programs or newspaper articles.

Carmichael, for example, has been out of the country since early this year traveling in Europe and Africa, where he and Miriam Makeba, his African-born wife, may eventually decide to stay.

Leaders Quit

Brown, sources report, is living quietly in New York City, making only an occasional appearance. He has just published a book, "Die Nigger, Die."

McKissick, who quit as national director of the Congress of Racial Equality last year, is hard at work on his black "Soul City" project.

These were the people who took it upon themselves to spread the gospel when the words "black power" were a fearful-sounding slogan that sowed confusion among most who heard it, black and white.

The new faces don't do the kind of coast-to-coast preaching that Carmichael did, but they may feel they don't need to—Black Power has become a household word.

In Newsprint

For example, when Carmichael was preaching black power in the heart of the ghettos in the summer of 1966, only the most aware Negroes recognized the book "Wretched of the Earth," by black psychologist Franz Fanon.

Today, however, that bitterly written treatise on how non-whites must rebel against white oppression is a stock item in any ghetto bookstore along with such other stock items as the Black Panther newspaper, collections of the philosophy of Mao Tse Tung, the writings of Ho Chi Minh, posters of Malcolm X, Che Guevara and Fidel Castro, and buttons bearing anti-police slogans.

Hermansville Soldier Missing

HERMANSVILLE — Army Spec. 4 Thomas St. Onge, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland St. Onge of Hermansville, has been reported missing in action in Vietnam.

St. Onge entered the Army in April, 1968, and has been stationed in Vietnam since last November. His parents were notified by the Army this week that he is missing in action.

St. Onge attended Marinette Catholic Central High School before moving to Hermansville four years ago with his family. He is a 1967 graduate of Hermansville High School.

Family members besides his parents are two sisters, Mrs. William Krackenberg of Muskego, Wis., and Mrs. Clint Messenger of Port Huron, Wis., and a brother, James, of Hermansville.

On campus after campus, students have risen up under a banner of blacks banding together in confrontations with school administrators.

The situation appears to be making a prophet of Carmichael, who told a black audience at San Francisco State College last November:

Duplicate

"If you can set the attitude of San Francisco State, it will be duplicated across this country overnight . . ."

With considerable local variation, that is just what happened, and when Carmichael abandoned his speechmaking activities for a sojourn overseas the list of colleges facing confrontations with black students was swelling.

With few exceptions, the student activists who appear most influential in directing these confrontations were involved in them many months before disputes made headlines.

Europe Tones Down May Day Celebrations

LONDON (AP) — Europe's May Day celebrations took on a new look today, more subdued in Communist capitals and unusually tense in the West.

The Soviet Union dropped the display of military hardware which in the past preceded the mammoth parade of workers and other civilians past Lenin's tomb in Moscow's Red Square. With the exception of East Germany, other nations in the Soviet bloc followed Moscow's example.

Fearful of another outburst of anti-Soviet feeling Czechoslovak authorities strengthened police forces in Prague with army troops. The workers' parade was called off, and factories urged workers to spend the traditional holiday in the country and avoid large gatherings.

In the West, authorities from London to Athens also prepared for trouble.

British workers went on strike for 24 hours to protest the Labor government's plans to curb wildcat strikes. The walkout was expected to fall short of the general strike its promoters wanted, but union leaders said up to a million men out of the country's 24.5-million work force would be involved.

The French Interior Ministry banned the usual Paris parade, charging that some leftist extremist groups planned to use the occasion for a day of "revolutionary combat." The Communist-led General Confederation of Labor and the French National Students Union also canceled plans for May Day demonstrations, seeking to improve the Communists' image for the coming presidential campaign.

U.S. War Dead At 4 Month Low

SAIGON (AP) — American battlefield deaths in Vietnam last week dropped to their lowest total in nearly four months while the enemy toll remained high, the U.S. Command reported today.

A U.S. spokesman attributed the reduction in American casualties to a decrease in the Viet Cong offensive. He said enemy casualties remain high because there has been no slackening of U.S. and South Vietnamese offensive operations.

The weekly casualty reports said 163 Americans, 237 South Vietnamese government troops and 3,662 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed in action last week.

It was the lowest American toll reported since the Viet Cong's spring offensive began 10 weeks ago and the third lowest toll of the year, bettered only by the first two weeks in January.

Peg Cost At $32 Million

Detroit Teachers Drop Salary Bomb

By The Associated Press

Amid speculation there would be widespread teacher strikes this fall, the Detroit Federation of Teachers dropped a salary time bomb which could explode in September at a cost of $32 million.

Aubrey V. McCutcheon, deputy superintendent and chief negotiator for the Detroit school system estimated the new cost of the teachers' request at $32 million.

The union included its salary requests in a package of more than 125 contract demands which were made public Wednesday.

The package did not specify dollar amounts, but instead asked for salary schedules equal to the average pay in the five highest paid school districts among the more than 100 in the Detroit area.

Board Warning

The current two-year contract expires July 1. Meanwhile in River Rouge, Marilyn Jean Kelly of Detroit, a member of the State Board of Education, said in a speech that teacher strikes could be common throughout the state unless the Legislature takes action soon on appropriations.

"By September, with increased enrollment and normal inflationary increases in supplies, materials and equipment facing them, schools will find it impossible to negotiate reasonable salary and wage increases for teachers," stated Miss Kelly.

Included in the demands presented to the Board of Education Wednesday were:

- An agency or closed union shop.
- Bonuses for graduate study.
- More pay for attending teacher workshops.
- Earlier start on longevity pay.

Full Life Insurance

- Teachers be allowed to accumulate more sick leave—up to 450 days in some cases as opposed to the current 30.
- More fully paid life insurance—$10,000 instead of $1,000.
- Full coverage for dental and optical services.
- Improved working conditions.

- Reduction in class size from a current maximum of 38 to 36.
- Greater voice in administration.

- More community involvement and others.

School administrators, addressing the problem of reducing class sizes, estimate it would cost $2 million to reduce classes by two pupils.

Under the current contract Detroit teachers earn the highest salaries in the state for those with bachelor's degrees—$7,500 to start. However, the city has the lowest salary among Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties for teachers with a master's degree and maximum seniority—$11,900.

Under the union's suggestion the teachers with master's degrees would get raises of about $1,100 a year.

Agnew Appeals To Governors To Back ABM

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew appealed to the nation's Republican governors today to support President Nixon's decision to deploy the Safeguard missile defense system.

A check in advance of the speech showed strong support among the GOP state executives for the missile system which Agnew said represents the "minimum, feasible, responsible action necessary to guarantee the security of the nation."

But a significant number of governors took no stand.

Agnew argued at a closed business session of the conference that Safeguard would preserve the equilibrium of U.S. and Soviet nuclear capabilities and leave the way open for diplomatic negotiations with the Russians.

The text of his prepared speech was made available for publication.

"If a major political breakthrough leads to disarmament, construction can be immediately stopped," he said. "If a major research breakthrough leads to the development of a genuine national defense umbrella, it is because Safeguard's expenditures were research oriented."

Agnew said the President's decision ought to be supported by the governor "if for no other reason that it is less expensive than the Sentinel system proposed by the previous administration."

Several governors, however, were wary about any public endorsement of a deployment decision that promises to encounter stiff opposition in the Senate.

Iron Workers Strike For $11.70

DETROIT (AP) — Members of Iron Workers Local 25 in eastern Michigan struck today in a disagreement over a new contract with the Associated General Contractors which could raise their hourly pay rate to $11.70.

Neither Stanley E. Veighey, manager of labor relations for the AGC, nor Local 25 Business Agent Jack Billingsly would talk to newsmen. Both were reported "in conference" although it was not known if they were meeting.

However, iron workers at Flint and Mount Pleasant were known to have walked out.

"This strike may not match the magnitude of last year's shutdown, but it could have a tremendous effect on future wages in the building trades," Veighey said Wednesday.

Free Steamship From St. Mary's

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — A 524-foot steamship spent about five hours stuck on a sand bar in the St. Marys River early today before being freed by a tug boat.

Coast Guard officer Jack Hindman — a Canadian ship — went aground when a sand cable broke. The ship resumed its trip to Milwaukee with no damage.

Italians In Curia Unhappy

Frenchman Is New Vatican Secretary

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A

hard-working, chain-smoking Frenchman, Jean Cardinal Villot, has risen to the second highest post in the Roman Catholic Church after only two years at the Vatican. Italians in the Curia aren't happy about it.

Pope Paul VI named Cardinal Villot, 63, Vatican secretary of state Wednesday. The former archbishop of Lyon succeeded Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, 86, who retired because of age and ill health.

The post is the Church's equivalent of a prime minister as well as its foreign minister.

Cardinal Villot is the first non-Italian to be named secretary of state in 55 years, since a Spaniard held the post from 1903 to 1914.

Italian prelates at the Vatican expressed both disappointment and fear. Many were bitter because the Pope had passed over such Italian cardinals with diplomatic backgrounds as Paolo Cardinal Bertoli, former nuncio to France, and Sebastiano Cardinal Baggio, former nuncio to Brazil.

Though he had a distinguished career in the French episcopacy before coming to the Vatican in 1967, Cardinal Villot has never held a diplomatic post. He is the first churchman in modern times who had no diplomatic experience before moving into the post which oversees the Vatican's embassies around the world.

One Italian prelate dismissed the appointment as another gesture by Pope Paul to give the Church administration an international look. He suggested that the Pope would run things and Cardinal Villot would be a mere "letter signer."

Other Vatican officials, however, were fearful of a growing group of French prelates operating in the Vatican power structure. They reported that Italian members of the Curia, angered by the appointment, had leaked the cardinal's appointment earlier this week to create embarrassment at the Vatican.

Barton To Seek Four-Year Term On School Board

Gary Barton, southern division manager for Upper Peninsula Power Co. and the Escanaba Jaycees "young man of the year" in 1968, Wednesday filed nominating petitions for a four-year term on the Escanaba Board of Education.

Barton will oppose incumbent members of the board, Kenneth West, 626 S. 17th St., and Charles Tooman, 215 Ogden Ave., who already have filed petitions for the two four-year terms which will be up for election at the June 9 election.

Ronald Lankford, 2519 22nd Ave. S., filed petitions Monday for the two-year term.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions is 4 p.m. Saturday, May 10.

Barton, 32, was born in Ludington and reared in Flint. He graduated from Michigan Technological University in 1958 with a Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering and began employment with U.P. Power Co. after graduation.

In 1963, he completed requirements and passed the state examination to become a registered professional engineer and in Oct., 1964, he was promoted to division engineer and transferred to Escanaba. He was promoted to his present position of southern division manager in 1965.

Since coming to Escanaba, Barton has worked actively in community affairs, serving as chairman for Red Buck District in the camp development fund drive of Hiawathaland Council in 1967. He also is a member and past president of the Douglass Houghton Chapter, Michigan Society of Professional Engineers.

Barton married the former Patricia Snover of Flint in 1957 and with their four children, Jacquelyn, 10, Pamela, 9, Daniel, 6, and Jodi, 2, reside at Soo Hill.

The longest history of any military organization in the United States is that of the National Guard. It dates back to the 17th century when colonists formed a militia to protect their property and their families.

Kivi Elected To Head Lions

Boys and girls of the Gymnastics Club of the Escanaba Area Public Schools were applauded for their demonstration of skill at a recent program of the Ford River Lions Club.

Chris Bodjanac introduced the group and its coach, John Prokos. The gymnasts include Mike Dupont, Janet Ferrari, Mary Berube, Karen Boudreau, Mickey LaFave, Debbie Smith, Mary Casey, Jim Potter, Dale Ackerly, Bill Ackerly, Howard Dittrich, Ed Goulais, Bob Larson, Debbie Dahlke, Bob Bosk, George Bartley, Mary Palmquist, Linda Friets, Bonnie Benoit, Bryan Henes, Allan Moras and Mike Cvangros.

The Gymnastics Club members put in many hours of work after school in perfecting their performances.

The Lions Club's business meeting was conducted by Robert Ferguson, president, and there was an election of officers for the ensuing year. They are: Dale Kivi, president; Marey Dupuis, first executive vice president; Emer Peterson, second executive vice president; Roy "Bud" Schmit, third executive vice president; Chris Bodjanac, tall twister; Joe Rademacher, lion tamer; Don Kline, secretary; and Robert Hawes, treasurer.

Elected to two-year terms on the board of directors were Ralph Norquist and Robert Crawford.

Retiring President Ferguson reported on the year's activities including the area planning for a glaucoma clinic and possible involvement in an eye bank.

The club's accomplishments noted were the information program for the clean water and recreation state bond issues, gifts to patients at Northern State Hospital; a smelt fry; and a gain of nine members (33 per cent) for the club.

Sponsorship of a Boy Scout troop for the youth of Ford River, and further expansion of the club's recreation facilities for the youth of the area were other accomplishments.

Welcomed into membership were Dennis and Allan Erickson, Jim Pendergraft, whose father, John Pendergraft, is a charter member of the club, Charles "Chuck" Snider and Reginald Peterson.

THE LARSON FAMILY has operated Larson Brothers store and timber business at Rock for 65 years, but it is under new management as of today. Pictured (from left) are Leslie and Clarence Larson, and Olga (Mrs. Paul Ramseth) Larson who have operated the store in its last phase as a Larson enterprise. The new owners are David and Margaret Farmer. (Mrs. Albert Weldum Photo)

Larson Store Sold; In Family 65 Years

By MRS. ALBERT WELDUM

ROCK—After 65 years of service in the Rock area, Larson Brothers store has been sold and effective May 1 it will be operated as a grocery by David and Margaret Farmer, who are formerly from the Detroit area. The new owners plan on remodeling.

John and August Larson were born in Sweden and came to Wilson with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Larson, in 1882. The family farmed there until they moved to Rock in 1905. Other children in the family were Mary (Mrs. Gunnar Nygaard); Charles, who built the store, was a carpenter; Albert, Ida, Otto, Anna (Mrs. Charles Carlson, who is the only survivor) and Ellen (Mrs. Fred McClaire).

John and August formed a partnership in 1902 in road building and one of the roads they helped construct is U. S. 41 between Escanaba and Gladstone.

They opened the first store in the Rock area on May 4, 1904, Larson Bros., general merchandise and timber. Merchandise was needed for the many camps in the area. August tended the store and John the timber business and lumber camps.

Public Service

August married Anna Nauer in 1906. They had six children, Clarence, Olga, (Mrs. Paul Ramseth), Leslie and August Jr., of Rock; Bernard of Escanaba; and Evelyn (Mrs. Joe Orlando) of Roseville.

After John died in 1930, August, with the help of his sons, Clarence and Les, continued operating the store and timber business.

August, active in community, served as assistant postmaster from 1904-1913 and as postmaster until 1923. During this period the post office was in the store. He also served as Maple Ridge Township treasurer 1908-1910; Rock Board of Education treasurer 1924-1945; Maple Ridge Township supervisor, 1928-1932; Delta County Road Commissioner, 1934-1946.

His son, Clarence, has been either a member of the Township Board of Review or a trustee since 1928. After August died in 1952, Clarence, Les and Olga operated the store and timber business, adding self-service in 1954. Clarence plans to continue the timber business after they leave the store.

The store still looks much as it did at the turn of the century, although prices and commodities have changed a great deal. Crackers used to come in barrels, cookies in big boxes, raisins and prunes were in bulk, pickles came in barrels and were sold by the dozen, coffee was bulk and was ground in the store for the customer, kerosene was pumped into containers furnished by the customer, as was vinegar.

The Good Old Days

Clerks waited on customers and there was no self service, sliced bread or packaged merchandise. There were cans of some basic foods as at the present.

In the "good old days" a broom cost 30c, salt pork was 15c a lb., beef 8c, pork 11c, eggs 20c a dozen, lard 10c a lb., sugar 6c, and butter 23c. Coffee sold for 15c lb, flour 25 lbs. for 75c, and you could get 12 bars of laundry soap for 50c.

Beef steak was 17c lb., mutton 18c, 1 axe handle 25c, 1 water pail 25c, half gallon vinegar 10c, a suit of underwear 85c, overalls 75c, and 1 dozen pickles 10c. You could get a hand rake for 25c, scythe 75c, bologna sausage 11c lb., a drag harrow $12, and a horse plow $2.

Sounds ideal, doesn't it? However, how many would work for the wages of the "good old days"?

Top wages were on the section (railroad) $1.75 for a 10 hour day. Otherwise wages were about a dollar a day. Men got 2c for peeling posts, 2c for cutting a stick of pulp, no matter what size, $4.65 for a cord of spruce, there was no market for balsam at that time.

Larson's is one of the few original buildings of the turn of the century still in use, but after 65 years, it too will change with remodeling planned by the new owners.

Advise Utility To Cut Rates

LANSING (AP) — A witness testifying as an expert accounting specialist for the attorney general told Michigan's Public Service Commission Wednesday that Consumers Power Company should cut its rates immediately by $22 million to $29.4 million annually.

The witness, John W. McCabe III, said the utility currently is collecting at least $22 million too much from its electric customers and $369 thousand too much from gas customers.

The company has requested commission approval to increase rates by $58 million a year.

McCabe, a former public utility auditor for the commission, is on the faculty of the University of Florida College of Business.

He appeared in behalf of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley who's contesting proposed rate increases of more than $100 million asked by Consumers Power, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Detroit Edison, and the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

McCabe disagreed with a Consumers Power argument that it should be allowed to collect an additional $9 million to pay the 10 per cent federal income tax surcharge.

"All other taxpayers, both individuals and corporations, are required to pay this tax to help finance our military effort in Viet Nam," he said.

Housing For Elderly:

Break Ground For 'Tallest Building'

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Groundbreaking for the $2.6 million 18-story high-rise apartment building for the elderly of low income in the Escanaba area is "the start of something wonderful," Mayor Cecil B. Chase declared at the brief ceremony held at the project site Wednesday afternoon.

Citizens, including a number of senior citizens who have made application for residence in the new tower apartment structure, city officials and a representative of the developers of the "turn key" project were on hand for the event.

"This will be the tallest building north of Milwaukee and some think that's not so good — but I think it's the start of something wonderful," declared Mayor Chase.

Downtown Advantages

Housing for the elderly is approached from two viewpoints: Spread out and occupy inexpensive land in the city's outskirts; or build apartment towers that keep the residents in touch with downtown activity and urban conveniences.

John Gannon, chairman of the Escanaba Housing Commission, who is resigning to become the project interim housing director, presided at the ceremony at the project site in the east two-thirds of the 500 block between Ludington and 1st Ave. S.

Nathan Rakita of the development firm of Blumenfeld & Rakita, Milwaukee, flew to Escanaba for the ground-breaking. He and his firm are proponents of the high-rise housing idea for the elderly, and he's proud of his company's work in Milwaukee.

Rakita praised effective efforts of the City Council and administration, the Housing Commission and others, who brought the housing project to its successful beginning.

Ready June 1, 1970

He described his surprise at the speed with which the project had been initiated and complimented local officials and citizens for their aggressive action in winning federal approval for the $2,500,000 loan from Housing and Urban Development.

Rakita noted that he had first seen Escanaba 12 months ago and now he was back again for the start of the project's construction phase. Little did he dream he said, that the task could be accomplished so quickly.

He pledged that Blumenfeld & Rakita "as developers can assure you that you will see residents in this building on this site by about June 1, 1970."

The "turn key" method of building housing for the elderly of low income gives the responsibility of development to firms like Blumenfeld & Rakita. When the project is completed the keys to the building are turned over to the local authority, and it is then responsible for its operation and the repayment (from rentals) of the federal loan over a period of 40 years.

Pride, Enjoyment

The Escanaba high-rise will have 176 apartments in its 18-stories, plus facilities for laundry, arts and crafts, a lounge and group kitchen. Grounds will be landscaped, and there will be the encouragement of social activities for the residents in the entertainment areas.

Rakita in noting the rapid progress on Escanaba's application and its federal approval named Gannon, City Manager George Harvey and assistant administrator Howard Smale as spending "endless hours" in expediting the project.

"Now we have something that people in their golden years can be proud of and enjoy," Rakita concluded.

Gannon introduced the members of the Housing Commission and expressed appreciation to them and to the other citizen groups that worked to bring the project to reality. Besides Gannon the Housing group includes Michael Jensen, Carl Anderson, William Winkler and William DeHaan.

He expressed optimism that in the future, with community cooperation, Escanaba could achieve other projects including skating rink and indoor swimming pool.

Mayor Chase gave recognition to others who participated in planning for the project including Councilmen Edward J. Cox, Robert Bink, Miles Dupie, Richard Pryal and former Councilman Harold Vanlerberghe.

The Rev. Ben Helmer, rector, St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, gave the ground breaking ceremony invocation and blessing of the site.

Rakita reported to the group that he anticipated good progress in construction and introduced Joe Kuschenreuter, general superintendent and Dave Sorg, job superintendent. Stevens Construction Co., Milwaukee, is the contractor.

"We built two high rise towers in Milwaukee with 251 units in 11 months," Rakita said.

Rent Under $50

More than 300 applications for housing have been received and additional applications are coming in.

The rental rate will be under $50 a month.

Each unit will have 430 square feet of floor space and be equipped with a stove and refrigerator, but telephone service will not be included.

However, each apartment will contain a signal device in the bathroom and bedroom to call help in case of illness or emergency; and a building manager will be on duty at all times.

To be eligible, a person must be 62 years of age or older, full-fill a one-year residence requirement, and have an income of not more than $3,000 a year if single and $3,500 for a couple.

Total assets may not exceed $7,000 which does not include furniture and an automobile. Tenants must be able to care for themselves. It is not a nursing home.

Aero Education Program Urged

MARQUETTE — Bridging a communications gap between the aviation field and business, industry and government through an all-level aerospace educational program was recommended for the Upper Great Lakes region at the conclusion of a three-day Aviation Education Conference at noon Wednesday at Northern Michigan University center.

Upwards of 100 business, education, aviation and economic development leaders from Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota attended the conference, the first of its kind ever held in the Upper Peninsula.

In final reports, committee chairmen of the workshops on the three major phases—aviation education, aviation industry and economic development—recommended basically that public awareness of the important role of aviation should be the goal in an all-level education program.

Submitting committee reports were Charles Thomas, Stout State (Wis.) University on industry; Alan E. Reed, Alpena (Mich.) Community College, on education and Gene Summerfield, Green Bay Chamber of Commerce, on economic development.

Establishment of an Upper Great Lakes Region advisory commission for aerospace education was the foremost recommendation of Reed in his report on education. It would provide an in-service training program for all teachers to emphasize integration of aerospace education into elementary, secondary and post-secondary school curriculum. Aviation education, he pointed out, should be approached from the kindergarten and followed through the 12th grade.

Also recommended was to have universities or colleges in the Upper Great Lakes region offer credit aerospace workshops for teachers of elementary and secondary schools. The report suggested four-year collegiate courses, including flight training if possible, teacher training and food service training for huge airlines of the future.

On the vocational level, it was recommended that courses be offered in mechanics, avionics, instrumentation, traffic control, baggage handling and other phases.

In presenting the economic development workshop summary, Summerfield pointed out it is necessary to educate airport personnel to improve their ability to provide public information. Also, there should be workshops for lending institutions and insurance agencies to acquaint them with the opportunities and needs for financing and insuring aircraft and aviation facilities.

Rapid River To Elect Boardmen

Supt. Richard Dye of the Rapid River School District announces that nominations are open to fill three vacancies on the district's board of education in the June 9 election in Ensign, Bay de Noc and Masonville townships.

Nominating petitions may be obtained at the superintendent's office in the elementary school at Rapid River and they require 25 signatures and must be filed by 4 p.m. Monday, May 12.

Retiring are Wayne Christoff and Ernest Vanderhoff, resigned, and Waldon Johnson, whose term is expiring and who is not seeking re-election. Vanderhoff said demands of business prompted his resignation and Christoff, a Flat Rock teacher, resigned to accept a position to be announced soon. Johnson's term will be 4 years and the other two, two years each.

Impellant Lodge 460 and Phoebe Rebekah Lodge 179 of Escanaba will jointly celebrate the 150th anniversary of the founding of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows with a dinner program Saturday at the I.O.O.F. Hall.

An anniversary program will follow the 6 p.m. dinner, according to local lodge officers.

The observance was proclaimed by Chester J. Hunnicut, sovereign grand master of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, and Raymond J. Fox, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Michigan.

American Odd Fellowship was instituted April 26, 1819, by Thomas Wilkey and four other members (belonging to the Manchester Unity, London, England) at the Seven Stars Inn, Baltimore, Md.

Since that time, Odd Fellowship has spread throughout the United States and to five of the seven continents of the world.

All local and visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are invited to attend the celebration Saturday, officers said.

Co-Founder Of Gates Rubber Dies

DENVER (AP) — John G. Gates, a native of Waterford, Mich., died Wednesday. He was 84 and had been in failing health for a year. He was secretary-treasurer of Gates Rubber Co. and held an engineering degree from Michigan Tech.

Gates Rubber, which John and his brother, Charles, founded in 1917, now is the world's largest manufacturer of V-belts for power transmission. It also manufactures tires.

Kelley Warns Of Get-Rich Scheme

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley today warned of a pyramid-style investment scheme being pushed in several Michigan cities by high pressure tactics involving get-rich-quick promises.

Kelley said the scheme emphasizes a distribution system rather than a product — although the ultimate product is cosmetics.

Meetings to sell the scheme recently have been held in metropolitan Detroit, Warren, Dearborn, Flint, Saginaw, Grand Rapids and Lansing, the attorney general said.

Kelley said his office is investigating to determine if any state laws are being violated, to enable prosecution. County law enforcement agencies also have been alerted.

Trained operators try to induce prospects to invest from $2,000 to $4,500, Kelley said. They are told they will receive bonuses for inducing others to join the distribution scheme.

The distributors hire sub-distributors who in turn hire other sub-distributors until a multi-tiered pyramid is established, Kelley said.

Kelley said the concept works like a vast chain letter where, as it descends from the top, investors are likely to lose their entire investment. Most investors are doomed to failure, the attorney general said.

Water Bond Bill Remains Intact

LANSING (AP) — Bills to allocate some $335 million from bonds for water pollution treatment and sewage construction faced final action in the House today.

"We've come to the final hurdle," said Conservation Committee Chairman Thomas Anderson, D-Southgate, Wednesday. He expressed relief that the House left the two bills — one for $285 million for pollution treatment, the other for $50 million in state construction funds — substantially as reported out of committee.

Skeptics have suspected pork-barrel projects hidden in the bills and action was slowed for a time by one representative who demanded changes for his district.

Also moved forward for final action were bills to exempt warehoused produce of commercial canners from local personal property taxes and to regulate loans under $5,000.

House action on the tax exemption for canners remained in doubt after freshman Rep. Gerrit Hasper, D-Muskegon, termed the bill a "$2-million giveaway" and "a new kind of ADC." Those letters, Hasper said, mean "aid to dependent canners."

Canners in New York and Pennsylvania, Hasper argued, face higher taxes that would discourage Michigan growers from shipping their crops and hurting small, local packers and canners.

A new regulatory loan act covering loans of as much as $5,000 received initial approval. Introduced by Rep. James Heinze, R-Battle Creek, it proposes maximum interest rates of 2½ per cent a month on the first $400 and 1½ per cent on the rest up to the maximum $5,000. Annual interest could be more than 30 per cent on such a loan.

Tentative approval of the pollution package came after Rep. Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena, sought to eliminate financial need criteria for awards.

A two-part formula in the bill would judge both an applicant community's pollution and financial needs. Swallow called the bill "inequitable," contending it would "reward a city that is head over heels in debt."

Charge Teacher With Assault

PONTIAC (AP) — The mother of a 14-year-old Eastern Junior High School student filed an assault and battery complaint Wednesday against one of her son's teachers.

Betty Emery charged in the complaint in Pontiac District Court that the teacher, Charles Hunt, struck Alvin Emery and knocked him to the floor during an English class Monday. Hunt has been suspended pending an investigation. Emery reportedly had several bruises on his arms and head.

Police Hint Immunity For Murder Clues

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Police officials have hinted that immunity from prosecution might be arranged for anyone having direct knowledge of one or more of the five slayings of girls in the Ypsilanti - Ann Arbor area.

"We will protect the source if they will contact us," Prosecutor William Delhey of Washtenaw County told a news conference Wednesday.

Police Chief Walter Krasny of Ann Arbor, who joined Delhey in the conference, said there may be eyewitnesses to some of the killings.

He noted that the University of Michigan's spring graduation ceremonies will be held Saturday, and "after Saturday thousands of young persons will be leaving, some never to return."

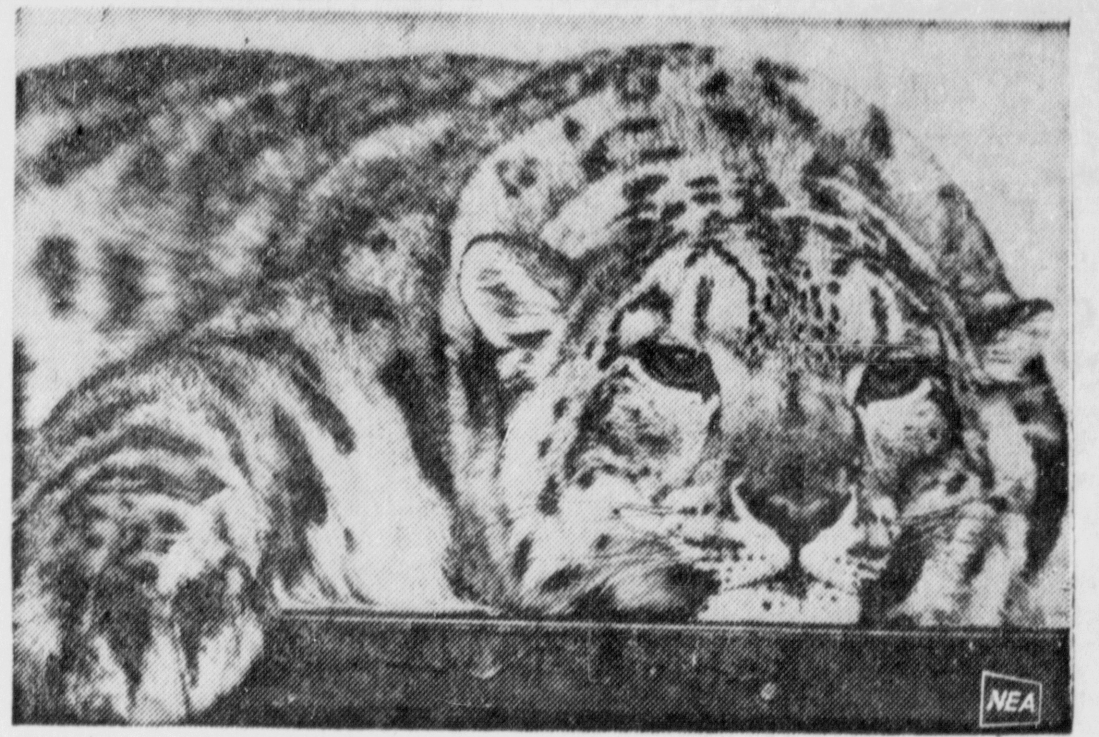

Krasny suggested that if any witness was afraid to contact police, he perhaps could call a minister, doctor or other third party who could serve as an intermediary.

Though neither Krasny nor Delhey would comment directly on promises of immunity for persons having direct knowledge of the crimes, police sources called attention to a 1968 legislative act permitting immunity.

Under the law, the county prosecutor may request an immunity order which can be granted by a circuit judge.

The five girls, ranging in age from 13 to 22, were killed within the past two years. Their bodies were dumped within a radius of less than 10 miles.

The most recent victim was 13-year-old Miss Dawn Basom, a junior high school student in Ypsilanti. Her body was found on a rural road about four miles from her home.

Organization Advocates Priests Right To Marry

DETROIT (AP) — New moves are developing among Roman Catholic priests for a change in Church rules giving them the option either to remain celibate or to marry — without any break in their ministry.

Public declarations on the matter came this week from clergy groups in various places, including Detroit and New York, in the wake of action by American Catholic bishops reaffirming the celibacy requirement.

Further steps also were taken in shaping a new organization set up to seek the right of married priests to continue in their religious vocation.

"Those are married priests available now who are ready to go to work with the understanding that the structure of authority has got to be shared," said the Rev. Pat Best, treasurer of the new group, the Society of Priests for a Free Ministry.

It reports a growing membership of 250 who want to pursue their religious careers as married priests.

The president is Eugene C. Bianchi, a Jesuit-trained theologian, now teaching religion at Methodist-run Emory University in Atlanta.

Father Best, engaged to be married in June, was a priest in Des Moines until a year ago. He applied for dispensation from his celibacy vows, in the view that he eventually would marry, and is now a vocational rehabilitation expert treating deaf children for the state of Michigan.

He estimated that from 2,000 to 10,000 priests left their religious vocations in the United States in the last year. However, no definitive figures are available, and some studies suggest about 3,000 or less.

Leave To Marry

Still other surveys have shown that the majority left to be married. Also, national polls of priests indicate about two-thirds of them feel priests should have the option of marrying. So do half of the seminarians.

Similar sentiments were voiced Wednesday by 38 Detroit priests, who challenged the Church law forbidding priests to marry, and said they consider themselves free to marry and continue their work as priests.

"Marriage should never be a state which rules out one for the service of the Church at any level," their statement said.

The Rev. Jerome Fraser, corresponding secretary of the 130-member Association of Detroit Priests, said the statement would be circulated among the membership to seek further signatures.

Concern

It does not signal any mass march into matrimony he said, but was primarily to let Church authorities know priests are concerned about the celibacy rule.

A similar stand was taken Sunday by 31 priests who held a rally in Brooklyn, reaffirming their opposition to celibacy, and declaring they consider themselves free to marry.

It came in the face of a statement by Brooklyn's Bishop Francis J. Mugavero saying he was not opposed to open discussion of the subject, but the 800-year-old rule of celibacy for priests was still binding.

American bishops, meeting in Houston in early April, reaffirmed the celibacy requirement, although noting a growing problem in meeting ministerial needs, with seminary enrollment down 12 per cent in three years.

Trout Opener 'Average'; Sucker Runs Are Starting

The general trout opener of April 26 was perhaps better than average, the Department of Natural Resources reports. While the waters remained high on the larger streams, some success was enjoyed on the smaller creeks, and some larger streams flowing into Lake Superior produced well for rainbow.

By far, the best bet, as is always true in the spring, were the trout lakes and particularly those in the Gwinn area.

Reports from local observers follow:

Best were Alger County's Mirror Lake for rainbow using worms for bait, and Moccasin and Johnson lakes near Gwinn, the former for brook trout, using worms, and the latter for rainbow, using spawn and crawlers. Camp Seven Lake in Delta County received heavy pressure without much success.

Most Lake Superior stream fishermen enjoyed some success for rainbow with the Little Garlic leading. Rainbow are present in most Lake Superior streams.

Coho continue to be taken at the mouths of most Lake Superior streams, with the Anna and Miner River areas near Munising most productive.

Smelt are about buttoned up in Lake Michigan streams, but are in full swing in Lake Superior waters.

Sucker runs have started in Delta County streams, but the taking by spear is not legal until May 1.

Some sporadic success for perch was enjoyed at Masonville, but no activity has developed at Van's Harbor or Nahma yet.

The general walleye and pike season does not open until May 15, with certain exceptions.

Bolin Lauds Diocese For Helping Peninsula Indians

LANSING — Michigan's top Bureau of Indian Affairs official praised the Marquette Catholic Diocese for its leadership in efforts to improve conditions for Indians in the Upper Peninsula.

Billy D. Bolin, head of the Indian Bureau's Gladstone district office, said the Diocese "has done more than any other private organization" to help the U. P. Indians help themselves.

He cited a project to electrify Hannahville, a small Indian community near Escanaba as an example of how the Diocese

Peking's Action Plants Doubt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nixon administration strategists say the latest Peking developments show Communist China is still a long way from a friendly entry into the community of nations.

The Washington assessment includes a study of the 24,000-word report delivered by Deputy Chairman Lin Piao to the recently concluded Chinese Communist party congress. Lin Piao, designated successor to Chairman Mao Tse Tung, said among other things:

"The truth that 'political power grows out of the barrel of a gun' is being grasped by ever broader masses of the oppressed people and nations."

Mao's heir apparent went on to denounce both "U.S. imperialism and Soviet revisionist social-imperialism" and praise "the national liberation movement" in "armed struggles of the people" ranging from South Vietnam to Palestine, Africa and Latin America.

These statements were noted at a State Department briefing Wednesday on U.S. policy toward Red China and the Soviet Union. Officials, who spoke under rules barring identification by name, gave the briefing to some 400 business executives.

Although the Nixon administration says it is trying to improve relations with all Communist countries, including China, the officials said Peking's posture makes it appear that a long road lies ahead.

Straight Man Wins An Oscar

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Straight men don't often get to take bows, and that's why Jack Albertson's Oscar win gave Hollywood a special glow of satisfaction.

Through vaudeville, burlesque, radio, Broadway show "Top Banana" and television, Albertson played straight, feeding lines to Bert Lahr, Milton Berle, Jack Benny and other comics.

"Even in pictures I always played the Phil Silvers role 'Blinkie,' the hero's best friend," he recalls.

That changed with "The Subject Was Roses." Frank Gilroy saw Albertson in the old play "Burlesque" at UCLA and decided he was the man to play the hokey, tightwad father in Gilroy's new play. The result: a Tony on Broadway and an Oscar for best supporting actor of 1968.

Pixy-faced Albertson seems still dazed by the events of earlier this month. He recalled that he slept two hours on Oscar night, then reported the next morning for a "Gunsmoke" segment.

The aftermath of the award has been understandably gratifying.

Wires from fellow troupers. Scripts from eager producers. The money offers have been gratifying, too.

"I signed to do a television feature for Aaron Spelling at more money for a five-day job than I used to earn in a year," the actor remarked. "I made 'The Subject Was Roses' for $20,000. Now my salary has doubled or tripled. Yeah, tripled, easy."

Albertson has been around long enough to know that he shouldn't price himself out of a career, as some Oscar winners have done. Nor is he insisting on starring roles. "In my next picture, 'Rabbit run,' there are five bigger parts than mine," he said.

Trout Fishermen Are More Sportsmenlike

By BOB VOGES
LANSING (AP) — The trout fisherman is more of a sportsman and less of a violator than the salmon fisherman, according to arrest records of the State Department of Natural Resources.

During the salmon runs last fall and the year before, some of the greedy fish grabbers went berserk. The salmon craze created a major enforcement problem for the department.

By contrast, the arrest record was low over the opening of the regular trout season this past weekend.

John Anguim, chief of the department's law enforcement division, reported only 26 arrests in the northern Lower Peninsula — the state's most popular angling area.

Skill Of Catch
Anguim said reports were not in yet from southern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula. He added he did not think these would send the total much higher.

"This is a small number for a weekend," Anguim said. "The dyed-in-the-wool fisherman goes up to fish. He gets more enjoyment out of his skill than the catch, generally."

"A lot of those who went after the salmon had never fished before," Anguim added. "The problem fishermen came in two categories—the meat fishermen from the cities and the local people who made a game out of violating."

Violations over the trout opener included 13 persons found fishing without a license, one non-resident fishing on a resident license, three found with undersize trout in possession and nine taking trout illegally.

Littering
The nine illegally taking trout included four using spears, three using landing nets and two caught grabbing the trout by hand.

Littering, trespassing and taking salmon by almost every illegal means a mind might imagine were the major violations of the salmon fishermen.

State Police made 647 litter arrests during the season. Conservation officers picked up 150. Beaches and private property were strewn with beer cans and bottles, garbage, papers and other debris.

"A major violation was the use of oversized hooks to snag the salmon," Anguim said. "Others used sticks to herd the fish into nets strung across the streams."

Raided Weirs
"They pulled them out with dip nets and with their bare hands. People were even raiding our collecting weirs," Anguim reported.

One inventive fellow sewed hooks to each finger of a canvas glove. Then he waded into the stream to snag the salmon — a technique probably invented by bears that catch the salmon that way in the Northwest and Alaska.

Anguim was asked if he thought the unruly class of salmon fishermen ever would calm down as the fish became less of an exotic novelty.

"Not as long as we have a large number of fish and a heavy crush of fishermen," he predicted.

Treasury Secretary Sells His Bank Stock

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy has sold $1.2 million worth of bank stock which the chairman of the House banking Committee called a conflict of interest.

The Kennedy critic, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., commended Kennedy only for "starting this action to clear up his conflict." Patman said he would not consider the matter closed until other stock held in trust is sold.

Patman quizzed Kennedy April 17 on his interest in Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. When Kennedy did not reply, Patman told newsmen, "he ought either to get out as Secretary of the Treasury or comply with the law."

Kennedy was the $200,000-a-year president of Continental before he was named to the Cabinet. His disclosure of the stock sale came Tuesday in a letter to Patman from Treasury's general counsel, Paul W. Eggers.

"I have made a thorough investigation of these charges and I find that they are erroneous both as to the facts alleged and as to the conclusions drawn," Eggers wrote.

Eggers said Kennedy had sold his 30,855 shares of the bank stock within a few days of obtaining it through an option. A Treasury spokesman did not give the date but said this sale was before Patman made the conflict of interest charge. Patman alleged Kennedy would be "wearing two hats" while testifying on banking bills if he owned the Continental Illinois shares.

The letter also said Kennedy and his wife placed in trust 7,846 shares of stock in the Conill Corp., the one-bank holding company to which ownership of Continental Illinois has been transferred.

"Mr. Kennedy stated that he had no knowledge from the trustee and no communication with the trustee as to the status of the stock transferred in trust," the Eggers letter said.

Eggers said Kennedy also took the cash value of 3,800 bank shares due him under a bank profit-sharing plan.

Pupils Protest Teacher Transfer

DETROIT (AP) — Uncertainty was the watchword today at Detroit's Martin Luther King High School, closed Wednesday because of a sit-in which resulted from the transfer of a popular teacher.

Police were called to the school in Detroit's inner city after about 50 pupils took over an office protesting the transfer of a teacher who had been assigned as a substitute. Apparently the pupils had not been told the unidentified teacher was only a substitute and would be subject to transfer to another permanent job in the school system.

The building was evacuated because of a false fire alarm and only about 60 per cent of the pupils returned to the building officials said. Later the group of unhappy pupils took over the office and classes were dismissed.

Claims Novelists On 'Word Binge'

HONOLULU (AP) — The trouble with American letters, says a Pulitzer Prize-winning author, is "everything is talked to death."

Leon Edel, teaching English this year at the University of Hawaii, said novelists today are so preoccupied with physical and sexual detail that they overlook more important things.

"We're on a word binge," he said. "Everything is talked to death, so everybody ceases to have values. They're satiated with words."

The planet Mars has seasons, but they are longer than the earth's seasons because the Martian year is longer.

Pathology Problem Bugs U.P. Hospitals

By JEAN WORTH

When Dr. Roland Berry asked the Escanaba Rotarians how many knew what a pathologist is, most of them didn't raise their hands.

Most of them must have known, at least in a sketchy way, what a pathologist is, but maybe they feared a specific inquiry to test their hand-up.

Dr. Berry was making a point.

It's one that the Upper Peninsula should be very much interested in. It affects the quality of medical service in the area, and so it can be a life or death matter.

The hospital practice of medicine, said Dr. Berry, isn't much better than the supervision it gets. This is the pathologist's job, or one of them.

Region Needs Service

There is, said Dr. Berry, need for a regional plan for pathological services.

There are in the Upper Peninsula 20 hospitals, with a total of 1,800 beds, excluding the neuro-psychiatric state hospital at Newberry with its 1,600 beds.

There are available to serve these hospitals 7 pathologists, all of them in the Peninsula's largest hospitals, with 120 to 150 beds each or more. They are at Marquette, where there are two of them (and two hospitals), at Ishpeming, Sault Ste. Marie, Escanaba, Menominee and Houghton.

"Presumably," said Dr. Berry "the other 13 hospitals are doing surgery and laboratory tests and presumably without supervision of a pathologist. So there is room for improvement in pathology in the Upper Peninsula.

Iron Mt. Situation

"The three pathologists at Marquette have no interest in the outside area. This was em-

Dr. Roland Berry

Aberdeen, S.D., with mail service, drivers, and telephone is doing a fairly decent job of providing pathological services up to 150 and 200 miles. Schoolcraft Hospital surgeons can have a frozen section of tissue in our laboratory one hour (by car) after they remove it from a patient and 10 minutes later they can have a telephone report as to whether it's cancerous or not.

"That's not too bad a service and it could be provided to others. But in the last year and a half I haven't been able to beef up our laboratory space at St. Francis Hospital. We can't expand our services for lack of space. We would have to reduce our bed capacity to provide it and that would be tragic now.

Central Service Needed

"There is room in the Upper Peninsula for a good central pathological service, but the outlook for it isn't good. The government is willing to build all kinds of things except a laboratory or a school for medical technology. We have created such a school at St. Francis Hospital without the blessing of the federal government. It is a situation in which something could be done, but it takes the public to do it."

The St. Francis Hospital laboratory has 12 full time employees. Its school of medical technology will graduate two students this year with a baccalaureate degree. It now has an arrangement whereby its students (three have been signed for fall) can take the first two years of work at Bay de Noc Community College in Escanaba, the third year at Northern Michigan University at Marquette and the fourth year in St. Francis Hospital's laboratory.

phasized in the case of Sawyer Air Force Base's hospital at Gwinn. There was not adequate service from Marquette, so they came to me — 60 miles away."

Dr. Berry also serves Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital at Manistique from his base at St. Francis Hospital, Escanaba.

The pathologist at Menominee is retiring, he said, and that will leave Menominee, Marquette and Iron Mountain without a pathologist. Wakefield and Ironwood are not in too bad position because they can get pathological services from Duluth, and Ontonagon can get service from Houghton, but Newberry and Munising are in difficult positions.

Messenger Service

"If a pathologist has to drive 50 or 60 miles to a hospital it takes two hours off his work day. Direct regional service here is out of the question.

Senate Rejects Extra Pay Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has backed away, at least temporarily, from approving extra pay raises for congressional officials after finding surgery and laboratory tests and presumably without supervision of a pathologist. So there is room for improvement in pathology in the Upper Peninsula.

When the bill calling for raising the leaders' pay as much as $19,500 a year reached the Senate floor Tuesday, Sen. John C. Pastore, D-R.I., objected. "I don't think it costs the speaker (of the House) any more to live in Washington than it costs me," he said.

The bill, already passed by the House, would raise the pay of the vice president and House speaker from $43,000 to $62,500 a year. The president pro temp of the Senate and the majority and minority leaders of both the Senate and the House would get pay raises from $42,500 to $55,000 a year.

Caught in the middle when the dispute broke out unexpectedly was Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, whose pay raise wasn't opposed. In fact, Pastore suggested that only the vice president get the raise.

Amid indications of agreement from other senators, Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., made a formal motion to give only Agnew a raise.

Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., interrupted and asked that the bill be recommitted to his Post Office and Civil Service Committee which had approved the measure.

Canadians Net Michigan Coho

BAYFIELD, Ont. (AP)—For Coho salmon, the penalty for deserting the United States is a Canadian frying pan.

The Coho, native to the Pacific Coast of North America, were first introduced to Lake Huron five years ago by the United States.

This spring they have appeared in abundance on the eastern shores of the lake in Canadian waters.

Tons of Coho are being netted by Ontario commercial fishermen. On the U.S. side commercial fishermen are forbidden to catch them although sportsmen aren't.

Ron T. Purdy, 56, a commercial fisherman from Point Edward, Ont., says he's getting Coho where he should be getting pickerel, more easily marketable.

Salmon, unlike pickerel, must be dressed. Purdy said dressing 9,000 pounds of salmon takes two days while preparing this weight in pickerel takes about five hours.

Purdy is more concerned about the salmon's success in Lake Huron and the subsequent influx of anglers and boats. "We'll have our nets cut to pieces," he says. "If the Coho stay all summer, there will be trouble."

Purdy fears the Coho, which have ravenous appetites, will drive out such fish as the pickerel. He explains: "The lake fish are slower than the saltwater fish like salmon and the lake fish haven't got a chance."

Ontario, following the U. S. lead, planted 150,000 Coho of seven to nine inches in Lakes Ontario and Superior this spring. It expects them to attain nine to 13 pounds by 1970.

Exempts Personal Belongings

House OKs Bill On Property Tax

LANSING (AP) — The house taxation committee has reported favorably on a bill eliminating personal property taxes on householders.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. William Hayward, R-Royal Oak, is aimed at deleting a provision of the state tax law that has been in effect since 1893 and requires the payment of taxes by householders on their personal belongings.

Householders' personal property currently is exempt from taxation up to a valuation of $5,000 per household.

If the bill is enacted into law, personal property held or used for the production of income would continue to be subject to taxation, Hayward said, but such items as furniture, clothing, food and fuel would no longer be taxable.

Hayward said he introduced the bill after a Circuit Court judge ruled that the Royal Oak City Assessor must commence assessing for tax purposes the personal property of householders.

Hayward said tax assessors throughout the state have been generally ignoring the provision of the tax law since it first went into effect more than 75 years ago.

'Law Day' Observed By Bar Association

The Delta County Bar Association today joined local bar associations throughout the United States in observing the 12th annual "Law Day."

Thomas L. Butch, president of the Delta County Bar Association, said purpose of the observance is to foster respect for law and understanding of its essential place in American life, to encourage citizen support of law observance and law enforcement, to advance equality and justice under law, and to point out the contrast between freedom under law and governmental tyranny under communism.

"Law Day" was first proclaimed in 1958 by President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Since then, May 1 each year has been recognized as "Law Day" in the United States.

Theme for the 1969 observance is "justice and equality depend upon law and you."

"The local Bar has emphasized that it has continuing programs to emphasize the importance of law," Butch said. "Throughout the year, a number of attorneys have spoken at school assemblies and in school classrooms and before various civic groups."

"Members of the Bar also have been appointed on many occasions to represent indigent defendants in criminal cases, pursuant to recent decisions by the United States Supreme Court," he added.

"The local bar also sponsored a program for the community at which all county officers and the new district judge took their oaths of office."

In proclaiming "Law Day" this year, President Richard Nixon said:

"We must reverse the upward trend of lawlessness in our land . . . We must recognize a clear duty to obey the laws, to respect the rights of others, to resolve controversies by lawful means and become responsive and responsible citizens."

Studded Tires Should Be Off

LANSING (AP) — Motorists using studded tires on Michigan highways today are breaking the law.

State Police pointed out that midnight Wednesday was the deadline for replacing the studded tires into which "ice grips" or tire studs of wear-resisting plastic or metal material" had been inserted between Nov. 1 and May 1.

The law provides that the metal or plastic projections may not exceed three thirty-seconds of an inch beyond the tread of the tire and must be "constructed to prevent any appreciable damage to the road surface."

The State Highway Department said it has not reached any conclusion on whether the studded tires have seriously damaged Michigan roads.

Noticeable damage has been reported to some blacktop highways in the Upper Peninsula, attributable mainly to quick braking and fast starts at intersections, the department said.

Delta Planners Ask 70-30 Bond Split

Delta County Planning Commission meeting Wednesday night in the Delta County Building changed chairmen and indicated that it might undertake county financing of its continuing economic development study itself if the federal government bugs out of a matching fund arrangement.

Delta spent $2,000 of its own money on the first year's planning study, which has produced a report on the natural resources, population and economy of the county. The federal government's 701 Program provided $6,000 through the Michigan Department of Commerce for the planning provided by Williams & Works, engineers and planners of Grand Rapids.

Williams & Works also did Gladstone's city plan, while Escanaba's was done by Bartholomew Associates. The county effort, said Chairman Frank Stupak of the new Delta County Board of Supervisors, will try to coordinate all the planning into a county package, as developments are trending toward regional sponsorship.

Miron Elected
The Planning Commission, composed of the 5 county board members and six laymen, last night:

1. Acceded to the wish of Chairman Harold Vanlerberghe of Escanaba that he be relieved of the chairmanship and named Supervisor Phil Miron of Ford River, chairman. Supervisor Stanley Dominic of Ensign was named secretary.

2. Urged the Michigan Legislature to split the $100 million recreational bond issue 70-30 as first proposed. This would give $30 million to local governments for playgrounds, parks, recreation centers, etc., and $70 million for state parks, fishing areas, forest campgrounds, hunting areas, hiking trails, etc. (The quote is from the folder proposing the bonds to the public in the Nov. 5 election.)

State Reneges
Controversy has arisen as to how the bond money should be divided and Detroit is seeking a huge share of it, instead of its share of the 30 per cent proposed for local recreation facilities.

The Planning Commission told Larry Miller of Williams & Works that it might give

Miller told the commission that the still uncertain federal aid for Delta planning would be on housing, recreation and land use, under the federal program. (Plans are necessary to qualify for federal aid.)

Supervisor Stupak said the state and federal governments had taken more than 40 per cent of Upper Peninsula land for recreation, greatly reducing the tax base, and now the state is failing to develop its lands to create a recreation industry.

Myers was publisher of the Press from 1911 until he retired in 1945. He remained active with the newspaper, writing a weekly column.

Five American Climbers Dead On Mountain

NEW YORK (AP)—Five of the 10 Americans who challenged the world's seventh highest mountain have died on its icy slopes in western Nepal.

Two native guides also were killed in the accident, somewhere along the forbidding southeast ridge of Mt. Dhaulagiri, 26,810 feet high.

First reports of the tragedy came from the State Department Wednesday night. A spokesman for the American Alpine Club in New York, sponsor of the expedition, confirmed the deaths.

Dhaulagiri, which means white peak, was first scaled by a Swiss team in 1960, after seven unsuccessful attempts. This was the first attempt on the southeast ridge.

"It's all very high up," French mountaineer Gaston Rebuffaut once said, "and above all it's technically very difficult: great walls and towers of ice, some rock, broken ground... There's absolutely no possibility of going that way."

But the Americans disagreed, and left New York March 31, led by Boyd N. Everet Jr., a 36-year-old New Yorker and the only man to climb North America's four highest peaks.

Everett and Vin Hoeman of Anchorage, Alaska, were among the victims, the State Department said. Other names were withheld pending notification of families.

An early report from New Delhi said a radio call had been received, asking for evacuation of two climbers who had taken ill. Further details were not forthcoming.

The Americans, with four Sherpa guides and 94 porters, set out two weeks ago, planning to establish a base camp at 16,000 feet and rest there 10 days to adjust to the thin air.

The Sherpas, a Tibetan people living high on the southern slopes of the Himalayas, are famed for their mountaineering prowess.

Stocks Stay On Up Side

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued higher in active trading early this afternoon, with brokers reporting the market apparently consolidating after Wednesday's sharp rise.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.08 at 951.26.

Gains led losses by about 200 issues.

Brokers said that after the big gains made Wednesday, and to a lesser degree Tuesday, the market apparently was pausing "because any rally needs a period to consolidate."

The Dow industrial jumped 16.08 Wednesday and 9.02 Tuesday. Volume Wednesday was an extremely heavy 19.35 million shares. It totaled 14.73 million shares Tuesday.

"After such big rises in the Dow and in volume," an analyst said, "the market has to be corrected to a certain degree."

Profit taking on the gains made in the upsurge was in evidence, brokers said.

"And there's a little caution now after those big price advances," an analyst said. "Practically nobody wants to buy stock on top of a forward move like we had."

Brokers also said fewer large blocks were being traded, indicating institutions were less active than Wednesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .2 at 337.9, with industrials up .2, rails off .6, and utilities up .2.

Steels generally were higher, with Bethlehem, U.S. Steel, and Republic all up a point or more. Jones & Laughlin Steel was off ¾. Steel buying, an analyst said, apparently was boosted by an increase in Bethlehem's dividend.

Heart Recipient Set To Leave

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan's third heart transplant patient, Gerald K. Rector of Livonia, was scheduled to be discharged from University of Michigan Hospital today—three days before his 44th birthday.

The only two other men to receive new hearts here have been home several weeks.

Rector received the heart of Roland J. Hoag of Westland, who died of a brain disorder, in a seven-hour operation March 16.

While his was the longest of the three transplant operations, Rector's hospital stay has been the shortest, 6½ weeks.

Philip T. Barnum of Kalamazoo, Michigan's first heart recipient, was dismissed after three months of hospitalization just before last Christmas.

Donald Kaminski of Alpena remained two months and five days before his dismissal in early February.

GERALD K. RECTOR, 43, of Livonia, Michigan's third heart transplant recipient got away from University of Michigan Hospital here for a few days to play with his Apaloosa stallion "Shenandoah" at a stable near South Lyon. He is now back at the hospital where he received the heart of Roland J. Hoag, 24, of Westland on March 16, but expects to be discharged soon. A former rodeo rider, Rector is fond of horses and motorcycles. (AP Wirephoto)

Columbia U. Hit By Protesters

By The Associated Press
Protesters led by Students for a Democratic Society have seized two buildings at Columbia University, repulsed a counterattack by other students and jeered a sheriff who warned them to leave.

Four other New York City campuses are beset by student turmoil, but elsewhere around the nation fewer campuses reported trouble.

Several hundred students at Columbia stormed into Mathematics and Fayerweather halls Wednesday, clubbed in the face a professor who got in their way and barricaded the doors.

They waved red flags and put up a poster of Ernesto "Che" Guevara, the late Latin American revolutionary.

The double sit-in, in support of black students' demands for a larger role in the admissions process, came exactly one year after 1,000 police ended an eight-day sit-in in five Columbia buildings by making more than 700 arrests.

The Student Afro-American Society, which first advanced the black demands, remained aloof from the SDS sit-in. The crowds on the 17,500-student campus were far smaller than last year.

No city police were on the campus. Acting President Andrew W. Cordier told newsmen, "We are maintaining a certain level of action." He declined to say if police might be called to end the sit-ins.

About 500 students at Stanford University seized a campus building early today for the second time in two weeks.

Proxmire Backs McGee's Cause

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy was charged today with being "grudging and backhanded" in withdrawing a reprimand but refusing a commendation to a civilian employee who triggered disclosures of the multi-billion dollar theft of U.S. fuel supplies in Thailand.

"The Navy has a genius for confusing the point," Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said in a speech prepared for Senate delivery today concerning John McGee, a civilian fuel inspector for the Navy.

Proxmire sharply criticized the April 18 action in which Navy Secretary John H. Chaffee gave McGee a routine, ordinarily automatic in-grade promotion, withdrew an earlier reprimand but said "I find no basis for commending you" and that his "association with the Navy had not fully met desirable standards."

"McGee uncovered a system which resulted in vast corruption," Proxmire said, charging "What Mr. McGee's superiors and the Navy have tried to do since Mr. McGee first attempted to change a lax system is to divert attention from the wrongdoing and corruption in Thailand to the alleged petty, and I mean petty, mistakes of Mr. McGee."

"In Thailand," Proxmire said, "there was vast thievery of American fuel. The inspection system was lax. While that system may not have been the cause of the thievery problem, it did not help to prevent it and, in many ways, contributed to it."

"This was apparent to Mr. McGee from almost the day he arrived," the Wisconsin Democrat went on, adding that when McGee tried to press through channels for changes, "his superiors prevented him from carrying out his duties as an inspector. They put him in bothalls."

"But by that time the golf season would be over," she added. "Anyway, I didn't want to get into a hassle."

Bonnie, who began golfing as a 6-year-old with cut-down clubs, can now belt the ball 210 yards.

"I guess I'm mostly muscle," said the pretty 125-pounder with long pressed blonde hair.

This summer she will compete in some statewide women's meets along with the Broadmoor Invitational at Colorado Springs and in the women's National Amateur for the third year.

She plans to attend Michigan State University next fall, a school which has in the past created a women's team when the material was available.

"I do not have any professional plans," Bonnie says.

Dennis Porter of Sault Ste. Marie, a former Northern Michigan University football star, will be among the trainees vying for a spot with the Green Bay Packers when the Packers open training camp. Porter, presently student teaching at Escanaba Area High School under Jim Hirn, was drafted 12th by Green Bay in the 1968 pro draft. He is a 6-foot 4-inch, 242 pound defensive tackle.

Former Menominee Riverside Country Club pro Rolf Deming, sponsored on the pro circuit this season by a group of Menominee men, finished in the money in the Byron Nelson Golf Classic Sunday. Deming wound up in a tie for 12th place at 289 and received $612. His rounds were 74, 72, 70 and 73. Deming was tied with Terry Dill, Jerry Abbott and Fred Marti.

Gary Moberg, the top scorer in U. P. basketball this past season, has been named the winner of the L. Albert E. Funke Award. The trophy goes to the player Copper Country Conference coaches feel is the most valuable to his team. Moberg is the first Baraga player to receive this trophy since 1960 when Tom Clische won it. L'Anse's Roland Schwartz and Gerry Gerard were recipients of the Funke Award in 1967 and 1968 respectively.

Dick Pole, former Ewen-Trout Creek High School star, is off to a fast start with the Greenville Red Sox of the Western Carolina League, winning his first two starts. Pole just missed a shutout in his first start as he notched a 10-1 victory, missing the shutout after two were out in the ninth inning. In his second start, he recorded an 8-3 triumph. Pole was signed after graduating from high school in 1968.

Bill Rademacher, a native of Menominee and now a member of the world champion New York Jets, is looking to the future when he becomes a football coach. In the off-season, Rademacher has been working with Ken Myer, the Jets new offensive coach, getting acquainted with the terminology and the philosophy of the New York offense. The former Northern Michigan University grid star has been playing pro ball for five years and wants to enter coaching when he retires as an active player.

Jim Harding, the new basketball coach at the University of Detroit, says that he will retain Tom Villemure as the top assistant coach. Villemure formerly played basketball as Newberry High School and Soo Tech (Lake Superior State College) before graduating from the U of D.

Noel Gannon, a freshman at Holy Name High School, has been a pleasant surprise for track coach Doug Bovin so far this year. Gannon, who wasn't even listed as a miler when the season began, has broken the school record three times already this year. He got his break while the Crusaders were warming up the night before the first track meet of the season and one of the milers was missing, so Bovin put Gannon in the race and he promptly went out and broke the school record.

Maloney No-Hits Astros; Reds Score 10-0 Victory

By The Associated Press
Not many pitchers can shrug off a no-hitter as old hat, but Jim Maloney can. "I wasn't nervous—I've been there before," said the big right-hander, who hurled the third masterpiece of his career Wednesday night as Cincinnati crushed Houston 10-0, breaking a five-game losing streak. "You just walk out there and if you've got a no-hitter, you've got one."

Walker said, "but he's getting grease on the ball. Back of his neck? I don't know. But he's getting it up there some way." Grease ball or not, Maloney was superlative. He struck out 13 and pitched around five walks as he ran his record to 3-0, hogging all of the Cincinnati's three complete games this season.

His sparkler led a night of classy pitching performances in the National League. Juan Marichal hurled a two-hitter in San Francisco's 3-0 victory over Los Angeles and Jim Bunning of Pittsburgh and Bob Gibson of St. Louis traded fine mound jobs as the Pirates won 2-1 before the Cardinals breezed 8-1 in a two-night doubleheader. Tom Seaver pitched a five-hitter as the New York Mets edged Montreal 2-1. Woody Fryman scattered seven hits in Philadelphia's 3-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs and Phil Niekro gave only six hits as Atlanta beat San Diego 6-3.

Maloney's third no-hitter—he won 1-0 in 10 hitless innings against Chicago in 1965, and lost 1-0 against New York in 12 hitless innings one month later after 10 hitless innings—put him in select company. The only other pitchers with as many were Sandy Koufax, who had four, and Bob Feller, Cy Young and Larry Corcoran, a pitcher in the 1880s, who each had three.

If any team was to have a no-hitter pitched against them it had to be the Astros, who now have lost eight straight games and 15 of 16 in a 4-20 season.

Marichal, 4-1, flirted with a no-hitter for five innings before the Dodgers got their only hits opening the sixth. But the Giants' ace retired the last 12 hitters for San Francisco's ninth consecutive victory that broke a first place tie with the Dodgers in the West Division. Bill Singer, 4-1, gave up only one hit for 5 2/3 innings before a hit batter, an error and Willie Mays' bloop single broke the scoreless deadlock. Jim Davenport later tripled in a run and another error brought in the finale. Bunning, 2-2, pitching his first complete game since June 28, 1968, yielded only five hits and struck out 10 in outdueling Dave Giusti. Run-scoring doubles by Nate Oliver and Manny Sanguillen in the fifth brought him the victory. Gibson, 2-2, fanned eight and gave four hits while the Cardinals built an 8-0 lead behind Joe Torre's three runs batted in, one on a homer. Seaver weakened only for John Bateman's homer in the eighth, but Ken Boswell's tie-breaking single in the ninth evened his record at 2-2 as he bested Mike Wegener, who also gave only five hits. Richie Allen's tie-breaking double in the fifth off Bill Hands and Mike Ryan's homer in the sixth insured Fryman's third triumph in four decisions. Niekro, 4-1, served up home runs to Nate Colbert and Tony Gonzalez, but coasted in as the Braves built a 5-1 lead behind Tito Francona's three runs batted in and Felix Millan's solo homer.

Club Owners Continue Grid Alignment Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Quiet on the outside, negotiating on the inside, pro football's perplexed club owners went back to their big chess game over realignment today with the American Football League waiting for the National Football League to make the next move.

Gwinn Golfers Defeat Braves

GWINN — The Gwinn Model Towners spoiled the 1969 debut of the Gladstone Braves golf team when they notched a victory in a dual meet between the two schools yesterday.

Five golfers from each school competed in the meet and Gwinn finished with a 238 total while the Braves had a 245. Bruce Richards of Gladstone and Henry Niemi of Gwinn tied for medalist honors, each with a 45. Other Gladstone scores included Bob Prins 46, Nolan Strom 46, John Krout 49 and David Livermore 49. Adding strokes to Gwinn's winning total were Salden Vonderhoff 47, Bill Dyke 48, Mike Minelli 49 and John Eisenhart 49. Gladstone's next match is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon against the Holy Name Crusaders at home.

McDowell, Indians Scalp Yankees To Break String

By The Associated Press
It may come as a surprise to the 23 other major league baseball teams but the Cleveland Indians won the first game of the World Series Wednesday night.

The only thing missing in the jubilant Cleveland clubhouse was champagne after Sam McDowell put an end to the Indians' 10-game losing streak with a three-hit 3-0 victory over the New York Yankees. "Every pitch was just like a World Series game," said McDowell, who was able to overlook the fact that the Indians are still firmly embedded in last place in the American League's East Division with a 2-15 record.

"All those losses were very discouraging, very discouraging. You look at the standings and you begin to believe you're that bad a team. The streaks don't come too good when you're in a lull like this," he said. Elsewhere Baltimore edged Detroit 3-2, Washington nipped Boston 1-0 on Frank Howard's eighth homer; Minnesota trimmed Seattle 6-4 for its fifth straight triumph; Kansas City shaded the Chicago White Sox 3-2 and Rick Monday's grand slam helped Oakland cuff California. McDowell held the Yankees to a pair of scratch singles until the ninth, when Bill Robinson doubled, and survived seven walks in gaining his first 1969 victory after three losses.

The Indians clipped rookie Bill Burbach for the only run McDowell needed in the fifth on an error by third baseman Bobby Murcer, a single by Russ Snyder, a walk and Tony Horner's bases-loaded force play grounder.

"Before the game I decided to throw as hard as I could for as long as I could, but I mixed 'em up pretty good. We had to break that streak." Howard's leadoff homer off Lee Stange in the fourth inning decided a duel between Wash-

The victory was the sixth for Ted Williams' surging Senators in their last seven games.

Tom Hall, a last-minute pitching replacement for sore-armed Dean Chance, struck out nine Seattle batters in six innings and helped himself with two hits as the Twins rolled to their 13th victory in the last 16 games. Ted Uhlaender's two-run single was the big hit in a four-run fifth inning flurry.

Jim Campanis scored on a passed ball by Duane Josephson in the ninth, sending the Royals past the White Sox. Josephson let a Wilbur Wood knuckler get away from him after Bob Taylor hit into a home-to-first double play with the bases loaded.

Monday's first bases-loaded homer in the majors highlighted a six-run third inning uprising and helped John "Blue Moon" Odom coast to his fourth victory against one loss. Monday also knocked in a seventh inning run with a single.

Orioles Edge Tigers On 8th Inning Blast

DETROIT (AP) — "How can anyone say baseball is dull?" asked Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver.

His Orioles had just edged the Detroit Tigers 3-2 Wednesday night to win the 15th out of their last 20 games to stay firmly atop the East Division of the American League.

It was Boog Powell's eighth inning home run off reliever John Hiller that proved to be the winner. But Frank Robinson's two-run shot in the upper deck in leftfield off starter Pat Dobson in the fifth was the most dramatic. It gave the former National League superstar a major league record of 10 home runs in April.

The Tigers almost pulled it out with a two-run rally in the bottom of the eighth but reliever Pete Richert got pinch hitter Norm Cash to strike out and rookie Ron Woods to hit into a force out to leave Detroit's tying run on third. The Bengals beat Washington 5-4 Tuesday night with a three-run double by Mickey Stanley in the bottom of the ninth and the 15,340 fans seemed to be expecting the same kind of finish against the Orioles.

Dave McNally was the winner, upping his record to 4-0. Pat Dobson took the loss to drop his record to 0-2 and, although he was in trouble on a number of occasions, Robinson's home run was his only big mistake as he was continually pitched out of jams.

"I thought 1966 was a great year, but this is overshadowing that," Robinson said, pulling on his calf length stockings. The talented leftfielder is off to a fantastic start. Besides his 10 homers he is batting .368 and has knocked in 24 runs. At that rate he would hit 60 home runs and knock in 144 runs by the end of the season.

Previous record for home runs in April was nine held by Ken Williams of the St. Louis Browns in 1922.

The loss was the sixth out of the last eight starts for faltering Detroit and dropped the Tigers back to fifth place in the East Division, one-half game behind Washington which beat Boston Wednesday night 1-0. Al Kaline, who extended his hitting streak to seven games with a pair of singles, played in his 2,115th game. That moved him to third on the all-time Tiger list behind Ty Cobb and Charley Gehringer and one game ahead of Sam Crawford.

Baltimore left five men stranded in the first three innings as Dobson began to bear down once he got in trouble. Don Buford led off the first with a single and Paul Blair walked. Then Dobson retired the next three batters.

Brooks Robinson led off the third with a single but Dobson disposed of the next three hitters. And in the third Buford doubled and Blair singled before Dobson again retired the next three men.

Finally, in the fifth with two-out Frank Robinson unloaded his homer after McNally singled. When Elrod Hendricks and Mark Belanger singled in the sixth Mayo Smith decided to bring in Fred Lasher who pitched 1 2/3 shutout innings before giving way to a pinch hitter.

Detroit's eighth-inning rally started with a walk to Dick McAuliffe. Then Kaline singled and Willie Horton followed with a hard shot to third baseman Brooks Robinson that got by him for an error, scoring McAuliffe. Bill Freehan came through with a single to score Kaline but the Tigers could manage no more.

Smith started all righthanded hitters against southpaw McNally. Horton, who had an injured hip, was in the lineup for the first time in three games. Rookie Ron Woods made his first major league start by replacing slumping Jim Northrup in center, while rookie Dave Campbell took over for Cash at first.

Denny McLain (3-3) was to try to get Detroit untracked tonight against the Orioles with Jim Palmer (3-0) scheduled to start for Baltimore.

Final Tryouts Set This Week

This is the final week of registration and tryouts for the Escanaba Jaycee Little League with the annual player auction scheduled next week. Registration for Minor League will begin in June and the first tryout for this younger league will be held shortly after school is out.

Boys 7, 8 and 9 years of age will be eligible for Minor League if they played on a team last year but boys new to the program will be expected to take part in at least one tryout.

Boys 10, 11 and 12 years of age must register and show up for at least one Little League tryout or they will not be allowed to play in the Minor League even if they were on a Minor League team last year.

Thursday night's tryout will be under the direction of John Hirn and will begin at 5:15. The final tryout will take place Saturday morning.

Registration blanks may be picked up at the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center or at 1415 16th Ave. S. All tryouts this year are held at the Little League Field near the city water tower.

Michigan's baseball team holds a 6-2 edge over Hosie College in Japan, in a series that started in 1921, continued in 1932 and finished in 1962.

Former Eskey Star Swinging Big Bat

COSTA MESA, Calif.—Once again the big bat of Dick Sivertsen spelled the difference between victory and defeat for Southern California College.

Last Friday, SCC was trailing Los Angeles Baptist College, 2-0, in the bottom of the third inning when Sivertsen came to bat with two men on base and promptly rapped a single to left, allowing both runners to score. In the next inning, Sivertsen came to bat again with a man on third and slapped a double to deep center and the Vanguardians went ahead to win the game, 7-5, and remain in contention for the Golden State crown.

The key game for the Vanguardians will be against California Baptist on May 6. A victory would put SCC in a tie for the title and a playoff would become necessary in order to find the champ.

The former Escanaban's hitting streak has now extended through all seven conference games and has boosted his batting average to .400 with 12 hits in 30 trips to the plate. In all 24 games to date, he is hitting .295.

Tiger Tales

By The Associated Press

Baltimore slugger Frank Robinson, who hit a two-run homer to lead Baltimore to a 3-2 win over Detroit Wednesday night, said this year's Orioles are better than the Baltimore team that won the 1966 World Series.

"Basically this is a better ball club overall," Robinson said. "The pitching is better. We had real young pitching then but now the staff is more experienced. The hitting was stronger then but it is more consistent now."

"I think we're a little deeper in pitching and catching depth than we were in 1966," said Earl Weaver, Baltimore manager. "On pitching we have five starters, and three of them won a total of 55 games last year. As far as hitting goes we've got several guys not playing who would be regulars on most other clubs."

Wednesday night's victory went to southpaw Dave McNally who now has a 13-6 lifetime mastery over the Tigers. He was the winner in Baltimore's 5-2 triumph over Detroit last Thursday night.

Denny McLain, who lost only six games against 31 victories last year, lost three of them to Baltimore. McLain was Tiger Manager Mayo Smith's choice to pitch today's game against the Orioles. McLain has a 9-11 lifetime deficit against the Birds.

A CHECK FOR $407 for Brookridge, a home for emotionally disturbed children from Delta, Marquette and Alger counties, was presented by Mrs. Willard Holup of Gladstone on behalf of the U. S. Forest Service Ladies Club to Michael Mahon, psychiatric social worker for the Community Mental Health Center. Mrs. Holup is president of the club and along with Mrs. Harold Stockholm of Gladstone served as co-chairman of the club's recent rummage and bake sale for Brookridge. The $407 represents proceeds of the sale. The Forest Service Ladies Club is a service and social club for wives of employees or female employees of the Forest Service. Members of the club joined the presentation.

Lose Unsolicited Credit Card? Bill To Protect You

LANSING (AP) — If you receive an unsolicited credit card, lose it and someone else uses it, you can't be held responsible for goods and services obtained, under a bill passed by the Senate.

The measure, approved 34-0, was sent to the House Wednesday for concurrence in minor amendments.

Sponsors said the bill is intended to cut down the flood of credit cards being mailed out by almost every type of business. Many have been lost or stolen, and the holders have been stuck with the bills.

An exception would be if the credit card or plate were accepted or previously used. The provision would not apply to card renewals.

The measure specifies that this information must be included with any credit card issued in Michigan. Failure to do so would be a misdemeanor.

Gives Treatment

Qualified physicians would be able to give emergency treatment to mental patients placed in temporary detention under another Senate bill.

The measure also requires House approval of amendments.

Sen. Lorraine Beebe, R-Dearborn, said many hospitals are refusing to accept mental patients for temporary detention because they cannot give them any form of emergency treatment.

"All they can do is strap them down," she said. "They can't even talk to them or give them an aspirin."

The emergency treatment could not include any type of shock therapy under terms of the bill.

Sen. Beebe said an attorney general's opinion had the effect of barring the emergency treatment.

"Some doctors have been sued, so they are refusing to treat such detention patients," she said.

Rent Strikers Win A Battle

ANN ARBOR (AP) — University of Michigan rent strikers won a battle Wednesday as Circuit Judge William F. Ager Jr. turned down a request for a temporary injunction requested by landlords seeking to end the strike.

The injunction matter was dropped with consent of attorneys for both camps, the judge said. Landlords sought the injunction.

The striking students have been withholding rent from landlords they characterize as unfair. The money was deposited in a bank in Windsor, Ont., where it is thought safe from court jurisdiction.

The students, members of the Ann Arbor Tenants Union, are seeking shorter leases, better maintenance and lower rents in their strike action which has caught the fancy of students at several other colleges and universities across the nation.

The landlords have sued for damages totaling some $1.7 million and have asked court help in evicting nonpaying tenants. Judge Ager said he will begin taking preliminary statements on those matters May 12 and will begin a trial May 26.

There are 91 defendants in the various suits. Some are accused of conspiracy against the landlords by seeking to have so-called libelous statements about the landlords printed in the student newspaper.

The strikers have in turn filed a complaint against the landlords with the U.S. Justice Department alleging conspiracy to fix prices on the dwellings rented primarily to U-M students.

Approximately half of the university's 31,000 students live in off-campus facilities in the city of about 66,000. As in many college towns, rents are high. The strikers maintain they are too high, a claim the landlords almost universally deny citing high property and mortgage costs as well as taxes.

Clairmont Wins Safety Awards

The Michigan Trucking Association announces its presentation of awards for safety of operation of trucking fleets within Michigan for 1968, with Clairmont Transfer Co., with headquarters in Escanaba, identified as the top carrier in the two categories of competition for general commodities carriers and has been awarded first place in both the local and the inter-city classes.

This is the eighth consecutive year Clairmont has won either a state or national safety award.

Operating in a five state area, including Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky, Clairmont's 390 drivers traveled fourteen and one half million miles in 1968.

Michigan Trucking Association's annual truck safety contest is designed to foster and promote safe operation of trucks on all streets and highways.

Barney Barnhart, Clairmont's safety manager, credited excellent cooperation of their drivers and vehicle maintenance personnel for producing the company's outstanding safety record.

The awards were presented to Barnhart by representative James Tierney of Garden City, at the annual Michigan Safety Conference in Lansing on April 24.

A few years ago a French army truck driver entered the ranks of motoring immortals. He hit a tree in the Sahara Desert—the only one in a 1,000-square-mile area.

Carry Off Safe

PONTIAC (AP)—Police Wednesday sought burglars who carried off a safe after breaking into a credit union of the Laborers International Union, Local 1076, in Pontiac. Authorities said the safe contained $60 in cash and $160,000 in non-negotiable bank certificates, savings bonds and paychecks.

NOTICE ESCANABA FIRE PREVENTION CODE ARTICLE 28

Section 28.1 — (A) No person shall kindle or maintain any bonfire or rubbish fire or authorize any fire to be kindled or maintained on or in any public street, alley, road or other public ground without a permit or other proper authorization. During construction or demolition of buildings or structures no waste materials or rubbish shall be disposed of by burning on the premises or in the immediate vicinity without having obtained a permit or other proper authorization. The Escanaba Fire Department does not require burning permits and will not authorize burning which will conflict with the above rule.

(B) No person shall kindle or maintain any bonfire or rubbish fire or authorize any such fire to be kindled or maintained on any private land unless (1) the location is not less than 50 feet from any structure and adequate provision is made to prevent fire from spreading to within 50 feet of any structure, or (2) the fire is contained in an approved waste burner located safely not less than 15 feet from any structure.

(C) The Chief of the Fire Department may prohibit any or all bonfires and outdoor rubbish fires when atmospheric conditions or local circumstances make such fires hazardous.

Section 28.5 — (A) Accumulations of waste paper, hay, grass, straw, weeds, litter or combustible or flammable waste or rubbish of any kind shall not be permitted to remain upon any roof or in any court, yard, vacant lot or open space. All weeds, grass, vines or other growth, when same endangers property, or is liable to be fired, shall be cut down and removed by the owner or occupant of the property.

The Escanaba Fire Department requires that vacant lots be kept free of combustible debris and that the grass, weeds, and brush be cut down and removed so hazardous fire conditions will not exist. Large areas of grass may be burned, but only if rule (1) of paragraph (B) in Section 28.1 can be adhered to. The person or parties doing the burning shall have sufficient manpower to control the burning at all times and will be responsible for damages to adjacent properties.
